

Ann M Einhorn

May 30, 2021

Ann Magdalene Einhorn nee Pelachik, 84, of Alpine, New Jersey, beloved wife, mother, grandmother, and friend, passed away May 30, 2021 at Englewood Hospital in Englewood, New Jersey following a valiant battle with cancer.

She was the daughter of John and Anna Pelachik, sister of Mary Weger, Agnes Robinson, and Irene Milner, wife of Edward Martin Einhorn, mother of Jennifer Jacobson and Jeffrey Einhorn, mother in law of Darryl Jacobson, and grandmother “Nana” of Meyer Jacobson.

Born in Schererville, Indiana, April 26, 1937, she attended Bishop Noll Institute in Hammond, Indiana, graduated from St. Mary’s College in Notre Dame, Indiana with a degree in Medical Records. She worked at Passavant Memorial Hospital in Chicago and ran the department as Medical Records director at Saddle Brook Hospital in Saddle Brook, New Jersey until she retired to raise a family.

She took classes at Farleigh Dickinson University, volunteered as Gilda’s Club, and frequently provided a friendly ear to anyone in need, who she happened to encounter in person or on a routine phone call.

She was an avid watcher of Wheel of Fortune, Jeopardy, and The Golden

Girls, a fan of the new Wonder Woman, always cherished her first car, a black '57 Chevy, and had a kinship with Disney's Snow White, with whom she shared the same birth year.

She was the most loving mother and devoted wife, best friend to her two children, and favorite hugger of her "Little Sweetheart" Meyer.

She will be forever in our hearts and minds. Her legacy will live on for as long as we remember her. And that will be, for as long as we all shall live. RIP best Mommy ever. We love you the most.
