

Charles Edwin Puglisi DMD

December 26, 2022

Chuck Puglisi, known lovingly as the "The Greenwich Village Dentist," was in private practice for 43 years in Greenwich Village, New York. He graduated from Fairleigh Dickinson University School of Dental Medicine in 1979, and was actively involved in the dentistry community, having been a member of the NY County and NY State Dental Organizations, the American Prosthodontic Society, and Delta Sigma Delta Dental Fraternity.

Chuck was a loving husband to Alexis, step-dad to Kathryn, and father to Meaghan; he was the sweetest uncle to Susie, Keith, Joanna, and Dant, the best grand-uncle to Charles Casey Bubba, and an exceptional friend to all.

Chuck will be remembered for his wonderful, infectious sense of humor, and for his authenticity. He forthrightly said what he believed and perceived and didn't suffer fools lightly, but he was warm, caring, and a true egalitarian. Chuck was a huge presence in all of our lives; he loved fiercely and lived well and gave well. We know he is in Heaven enjoying his favorite pastime, golf, along with a cigar and a single malt, neat. As for us, we can't imagine life without him, and will miss him sorely.

“ Twenty years ago, I had no insurance and needed a root canal. Dr. Puglisi took care of me - an act of kindness I would never forget. Twenty years later, Chuck and I would play golf together from time and time and he invited me into his regular group at River Vale - another kind gesture from a true gentleman. My sincere condolences to his family, loved ones and staff.
