“ Last night my sister, 9 cousins and I lost our absolutely perfect Grandma. She was an angel on earth, the most selfless, loving person you could ever meet. I have only the best memories growing up and now because of the family that my grandma and grandpa built together. Grandma never missed a thing, swim meets, a spontaneous lunch together, even my students concerts now as a teacher. She would always be there, always so proud and I know even though she's gone that she still will be at all of our big moments. Although I am devastated to see you go grandma, I am glad you don't have to suffer anymore. You were beyond a fighter this last year and even then you couldn't be seen without a smile. I will miss you beyond words, no one will ever be a better lunch date
❤️ Grandpa finally got his Valentine back. Love you always grandma

“Grandma, most people know you for your compassion, love, holiness, and generosity. But over the past 14+ months you proved that it’s your toughness that shines as bright as anything else. You never flinched when adversity hit. When grandpa passed you held everyone up. When our family had our differences, you brought us back together. Hell, when you were run over by a car 6 years ago and broke nearly every single bone in your body, you told the ambulance that you didn’t think it was necessary to go to the hospital and tried to get up and walk away. Then finally, when you got sick, you fought longer and harder than anyone could’ve expected. Yesterday, Valentine’s Day came, and Grandpa was ready to come get you and bring you up to heaven to celebrate. I hope you guys had the best date of all time. Love you and miss you more than anything Grandma. “So long” and Rest In Peace ❤️💕🙏
