I understand that this message is a bit dated, but, Ron and I were roommates at Englewood Hospital some years ago. Upon trying to reach out to him recently, I received this bad news.

We shared a love of coaching, music, and most importantly, people. If anyone could make a hospital stay fun...it was Ron.

Chatted about Cory Booker with whom my children had the same 8th grade teacher in Harrington park and whom I believe there is an IBM relationship.

Although I knew him for less than 2 weeks, I shall never forget his brilliance and kindness.

I hope his family gets this message

*Best,

This message is time dated as well but wanted to share with Tanya and Inez.

Dear "Big Mac" as you were affectionately called:

It is the week of the US Open 2023 in the Arthur Ashe Stadium in NYC. There are two Black American men (Frances Tiafoe and Ben Shelton) in the quarter-finals and Coco Gauff taking the grand prize for Women Singles since Venus.

We know you are beaming up there and are still teaching and coaching tennis.

*All the Best,
Dorothy A.*
