“ We called him “The Magician” because there was no pain he could not make go away. While facing down being adjusted we talked about kids and travel, holidays and food. Our Magician was much more than our chiropractor, he was our friend. This planet is missing one amazing good man but heaven earned an angel.

“ To my oldest and closest friend Eli,

I really am sorry that I can't be there for you, but my heart goes out to you and your family. I didn't know your dad as well as you but there is a saying that children are a reflection of their parents. And knowing you, I know that your dad was amazing. You are strong, smart, responsible, and caring. Knowing that just means that your dad was the same. He raised you that way, he cared for you that way, making you the man you are today. Because of that I know he did a great job as a father. So keep living, live on for his legacy and his memory. Live on so that when people look in awe of you, they will think "Wow! This guy's dad must have been amazing!" Let your family do the same, so that others can only wonder how amazing your dad was. I will do the same... I will live so that people will think "Wow. That guy must have an amazing friend who was raised by an amazing dad!" So keep living Eli! And know that your dad's only regret was that he could not watch you grow to an even better man. You are my best friend Eli, you've always have been, ever since we were little kids. I've watched you grow over the years and I know that you will stand strong. I know that you will smile and you will keep the memory and the teachings of your dad in your heart. I know this because I am your oldest and closest friend.

Peter*

“ Dear Dr. Louise, Jay, Maia and Eli,
We are so deeply saddened to hear about the passing of Dr. Stan! Stan was truly an amazing doctor and integral member of our Norwood community. I would often walk in with crippling back pain and walk out feeling significantly better if not all together completely pain free. Stan had a wonderful sense of humor, the ability to see the good in everything and when he spoke about his wife and children I could swear his feet left the floor. Stan will be dearly missed and his memory will always be a true blessing!

“ So sorry to hear of Stan's passing. He was a talented chiropractor who seemed to work magic as put everything in alignment. He was a man of service, volunteering in Boy Scouts and for wellness and career programs at NVOT. Above all, he loved his family, always sharing stories about Louise and also how proud he was of the accomplishments of his children and talking about their goals. May his memory be a blessing and may memories bring comfort to his family.
